NEXT ISSUE CUTOFF: MAY 25

Editorial Comment

The last intergroup meeting was lively - had 12 interested AA members participating. Even though a literature order had just been received, it sold out pretty quickly. Mary from Mt. Desert offered to help on the Hotline Committee, and two new people showed up from Belfast. Under New Business two related items were brought up for discussion. We decided, before proceeding in any direction to ask for your input and the thinking of your group.

It was proposed that DEIG start to handle the chips and medallions for the groups so that the groups could purchase literature and chips from one source. It was also proposed that some other AA items - such as Hazelden's Twenty-Four Hours A Day, etc., also be made available. What do you think? What do the Traditions say? Has the Conference said anything? Show up on May 17. Send a group representative or update the secretary's job description.

Do you want this newsletter by e-mail? Serve on a committee, such as Functions or Unity? Hotline? No opinion on chips? Bob D, Editor
